

BRAD MUNSON

Writing & Editing ♦ Content Provision ♦ Ghost-Writing

I have been a professional writer, editor, ghostwriter and more recently “content provider” for more than forty years, in subject areas the span a wide variety of audiences, from marketers to manufacturers, parents to hot rod enthusiasts, comic book professionals to high school principals. I’ve written (and ghost-written) more than 500 articles, dozens of web sites and publications, and more than half a dozen books for major publishers including Del Rey/Random House, CBS/Popular Library, and Time/Warner. I have built a lifelong reputation as a clever, fast, adaptable, and reliable professional for fiction, non-fiction, editing, ghosting-writing, and marketing consultation.
